

Pan Pacific chef wins Hong Kong award

Pan Pacific Singapore's Chef Chan Chen Hei of the Hai Tien Lo Cantonese restaurant beat six other participants from top hotel restaurants to clinch the master chef award at the Great Hong Kong Adventure regional promotion.

Organised by the Hong Kong Tourist Association and co-sponsored by Cathay Pacific Airways Limited, the Singapore event is part of the regional promotion. Chef Chan wowed the panel of judges with an innovative Chinese menu, using new and imported ingredients such as kobe beef, Korean Shemiji mushrooms, Shanghai hairy crab roe, bamboo pith, Korean ginseng, gherkins and endives to bring exciting new flavours and creative presentations while remaining faithful to the principles of Cantonese cooking.

Chef Chan Chen Hei won hands down by combining the traditions of Cantonese cooking with untraditional ingredients.

